Introducing 37 New Videos!

You may have explored Gemba Academy in the past but have you seen us lately?

In the past four weeks, we have added 37 new videos in our Gemba Live! series. With a focus on how lean works in real companies, you can train and inspire your team and nurture your lean culture in minutes.

Check out the complete list of new videos under FastCap and Specialty Silicone Fabricators at the end of the video list here.

In March Gemba Academy subscribers learned how FastCap uses lean methodologies to transform all of their operations, from the shop floor to graphic design.

This month, we offer you a glimpse into the operations of medical device component manufacturer Specialty Silicone Fabricators (SSF) in Paso Robles, CA.

Find out how they use their morning meetings to prioritize their daily work, how they empower their associates to think and make their own decisions, and how they've made simple, yet profound, improvements such as Point of Use Tooling and Shadow Boards to increase efficiency and productivity.

The Gemba Live! Series is included with a School of Lean subscription and can be found at the end of the video and group list. A sample video is also in the Free Preview. Videos from new companies will be added regularly.

"The fact the courses are delivered into small, bite-size modules makes learning easier and allows the students to go back to a particular module for refresher training. This reinforces particular learning points for the student and makes learning much more effective. This results in a more engaged and active participant."

- Jeff Miller, Global Best Practices Group Chair, Toyota
