Upcoming Webinar – August 14th at 1 p.m. Central (U.S.)

Many leaders and organizations, across various industries, talk about the desire for a "culture of continuous improvement." But, why is there often a gap between the goal and reality? This webinar will address:

- How to foster an environment that allows employees to share ideas for improvement.
- How to allow people to speak freely about problems, waste, and opportunities for improvement, while giving them the time and coaching required to make improvement happen.
- Practical actions and behaviors that leaders at all levels need to practice and model for their organizations.

Register now and join Gregory Jacobson, MD and Mark Graban on August 14th! Registrants will also receive a link to watch the recorded webinar if they are unable to attend.

Did you know...

Gemba Academy now offers subtitles for the top three languages spoken in the world. Mandarin Chinese is spoken by over 12% of the world's population, and Spanish and English are nearly tied at 4.85% and 4.83% respectively. Our Lean and Six Sigma training can be used to help your non-native speakers learn about lean and six sigma as well as acquire a new language!
