Gemba Live! included in all subscriptions!

Whether you are subscribed to the School of Lean, School of Six Sigma, the Combo Package, or are working toward certification, Gemba Live! is now available within your subscription at no additional cost! Leverage lean expertise in your training with thought leaders such as Masaaki Imai, Mark Graban, and Dan Markovitz.

The Gemba Live! series also features episodes filmed on location profiling the continuous improvement journeys of several diverse organizations. We've been busy at Gemba Academy and have new updates in the works:

1. We talked all things lean with John Shook, Jim Womack, and Dan Jones at the recent AME conference in Toronto. This 70 minute interview is in post production and will be available soon! Trust me when I say this is 70 minutes of video you will NOT want to miss.
2. Kevin Meyer, co-founder of Gemba Academy, interviewed Jean Cunningham and talked Lean Accounting.
3. We shot a Gemba Live! episode at Lear Corporation where they make the seats for the BMW X5.
4. We shot Gemba Live! episodes at NFI Industries, and Platt Tech, a vocational high school in CT, where young adults are learning all about lean. Super inspiring stuff!
5. And we're preparing for our next "studio" course where we'll take a deep dive into the topic of Lean Accounting.

Keep an eye out over the coming weeks for this new content. In the meantime, visit the Gemba Live! page now to review any of the first videos in each section – the first videos are open to non-subscribers!

"We are about to graduate our first class of green belts. Unanimous thumbs up to the course by the class of six.

I personally enjoyed leading the project and look forward to growing in class size as the word spreads throughout the organization. It's very rewarding when managers thank you for opening their eyes to a new way of problem solving.

The Gemba Academy program is easy to use, very informative, and challenging. Thank you for providing this service."
